During that time he was given the best of medical care and constant attention by loving hands of a faithful wife and children. Within the past few days members of his family gave freely of their blood for transfusions in the earnest hope that it would be of benefit, but it proved unavailing.

Mr. Morrissey was born Feb. 15, 1867, having arrived at the age of 67 years, ten months and 16 days. He was the son of Edward and Mary Doyle Morrissey, who were pioneer settlers in Marion township and Lee county. He was prominently identified with farming interests, which he followed all of his life in the township of his birth. He was united in marriage with Miss Jane Cody of Highland, Wis., Feb. 5, 1894. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morrissey, three sisters, Mrs. Johanna O'Hare, Mrs. Ellen Blackburn and Miss Bridget Morrissey have preceded him in death. Simple Funeral For Chas. P. Taft Today

Cincinnati, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The simplicity that ruled the life of Charles P. Taft, philanthropist, newspaper publisher, politician and business man, who died Tuesday night at the age of 86, was retained in death as his body was laid to rest today.

Although city and county officials planned to attend the services at Christ Church in a body, and many organizations of which he was a member designated honorary pallbearers, only the customary rites of Episcopal Church were arranged in keeping with Cincinnati's memory of Mr. Taft as a kindly and until a few years ago a familiar figure on the streets.

TRIO OF WRECKS NEAR BRIDGE AT GRANDY TUESDAY

Water On Pavement
Caused Cars To Leave Road

Melted snow water which ran across the route 2 paving just south of the Grand Detour bridge over Rock River was accountable for at least three wrecks Tuesday between 3:30 and 9 o'clock. Three cars were either turned over and badly damaged or crashed into the guard rail at the south approach to the bridge, one of which narrowly escaped diving into the river.

The first wreck occurred about 3:30 in the afternoon when a Nash sedan in which Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Samuelson and four children, 423 Thirty-ninth street, Moline, were enroute to Rockford, to spend the holiday, crashed into the guard rail. The car was badly damaged and both Mr. and Mrs. Samuelson sustained scalp wounds, the children, who were in the back set of the car, escaping with minor bruises in the shaking up. Mr. and Mrs. Samuelson were taken to the Dixon hospital where their injuries were dressed and later they returned to their home in Moline.

About 6 o'clock another car skidded on the slippery paving and turned over in a ditch, the driver escaping uninjured and the car being only slightly damaged.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday night motorists discovered a Ford roadster over turned in the ditch about 50 feet south of the bridge and reports coming to the office of Sheriff Ward Miller indicated that the driver was under the car. The sheriff and a deputy went to the scene and found a wrecked truck removing the car. It also skidded over on the slippery paving and turned over in the ditch. Plus Burgard, formerly of Amboy, driver of the car sustained a wrenching back but was fortunate in not being more seriously injured. The car was badly damaged and had to be hauled to a local garage.

Woman May Turn Against Paramour

Chicago, Jan. 2.—(UP)—Whether to testify against her sweetheart and perhaps save herself or whether to stand by him when he faces a murder charge and risk having her baby born in prison was the dilemma confronting Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien today.

TWO KILLED IN BUS WRECK IN OHIO THIS MORN

Greyhound Bus Crashed Into Bank; Several Were Injured

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and several were injured when a motor bus ran off a road fifteen miles east of here early this morning.

The dead are Thomas Carney, 45, Alexandria, Ind., and Esther Masters, 30, of Connersville, Ind. The injured were given treatment at Richmond, Ind. Eaton and West Alexandria, Ohio. The driver of the machine, W. R. Spratt of Indianapolis, who was cut about the face and body and who miraculously escaped death, was taken to a hospital here in an unconscious condition.

Lights Held To Flame
It is believed that the bright lights of a westbound machine caused the bus driver to swerve to the right, off the road and into the ditch.

The impact caused the entire front end of the machine to be buried in the side of the embankment. Most of the passengers were asleep at the time of the crash. Soon after the crash the machine caught fire but the flames quickly were extinguished by the heavy rain which was falling at the time.

The motor bus, operated by the Greyhound Lines, Inc., was bound from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. The accident occurred on the National road four miles east of Eaton, Ohio. Several other persons on the bus escaped injury and left by interurban for Dayton, Ohio.

Spratt, the bus driver, was pinned in the wreckage for nearly three hours. When he regained consciousness he made no statement in regard to the cause of the accident.

CASE CO. BONUS TO WORKERS IN FORM OF SAVING

Deposits Placed For Men In Either Of Local Banks

On December 24th, 1929, the Dixon Works of the J. I. Case Company announced their third annual Christmas bonus, which this year took the form of a deposit in the savings department of either of the local banks. A few years ago the J. I. Case Company started a system of savings in the Dixon works whereby any employee could authorize a deduction of any amount from each pay, the amount deducted to be deposited in a regular savings account in one of the banks. Many of the men took advantage of this easy method of saving.

When the 1929 Christmas bonus was announced many more names were added to the Case Savings Club, until now over one-third of the employees of the Dixon Works are members of the club. Considering the many employees who have savings accounts, but are not members of a Case Savings Club, it is safe to say that over one-half of the employees of the Dixon Works of the J. I. Case Company have savings accounts in which they make regular deposits each pay day.

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO HELP IN GUARD PROBE

Rhode Island Attorney
General In Charge of Investigation

Providence, R. I., Jan. 2.—(UP)—A direct appeal to President Hoover to direct the co-operation of the Federal government in investigating the Black Duck rum killings will be made if necessary. Atty. Gen. Oscar L. Helten of Rhode Island, announced today.

Returning today from Washington, the chief law officer of the state took over from his assistant Benjamin M. Melyman, the direction of the state inquiry into the killing by Coast Guards of three alleged rum smugglers at the mouth of Narragansett Bay early Sunday.

Helten said he would make a new request for Federal co-operation but that if it were not forthcoming he could appeal to Mr. Hoover through Senators Jesse H. Metcalf and Felix Herbert of Rhode Island.

The Attorney General announced he would take personal charge of the Coroner's inquest in Newport today. He expressed the hope that the inquest could be made open to the public and declared newspapermen would be admitted if he were assured of Federal co-operation.

May Be In Private

If the Coast Guard and other governmental agencies involved persisted in their refusal to co-operate, however, a star chamber session would be held, he declared. This would be necessary, he said, to prevent Federal authorities from obtaining whatever evidence the state might have collected.

In fairness to the Coast Guardsmen involved and the Coast Guard service as a whole, the Attorney General said, the Federal government should co-operate with state authorities in clearing up whatever mystery surrounded the killings. If the killings were legal, he added, there was nothing to conceal.

Helten said he would ask Coast Guard officials at New London to turn over the Black Duck, the notorious rum-runner that was riddled by machine-gun fire, and to grant permission to his investigators to board and inspect the craft.

Helten said he also wanted the crew of the CG-290 to appear and testify at the Coroner's inquest.

TRIO OF WRECKS NEAR BRIDGE AT GRANDY TUESDAY

Water On Pavement Caused Cars To Leave Road

Melted snow water which ran across the route 2 paving just south of the Grand Detour bridge over Rock River was accountable for at least three wrecks Tuesday between 3:30 and 9 o'clock. Three cars were either turned over or badly damaged or crashed into the guard rail at the south approach to the bridge, one of which narrowly escaped diving into the river.

The first wreck occurred about 3:30 in the afternoon when a Nash sedan in which Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Samuelson and four children, 423 Thirtieth street, Moline, were enroute to Rockford to spend the holiday, crashed into the guard rail. The car was badly damaged and both Mr. and Mrs. Samuelson sustained scalp wounds, the children, who were in the back seat of the car, escaping with minor bruises in the shaking up. Mr. and Mrs. Samuelson were taken to the Dixon hospital where their injuries were dressed and later they returned to their home in Moline.

About 6 o'clock another car skidded on the slippery paving and turned over in a ditch, the driver escaping uninjured and the car being only slightly damaged.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday night motorists discovered a Ford roadster over turned in the ditch about 50 feet south of the bridge and reports coming to the office of Sheriff Ward Miller indicated that the driver was under the car. The sheriff and a deputy went to the scene and found a wrecking truck removing the car. It also skidded on the slippery paving and turned over in the ditch. Pius Burgard, formerly of Amboy, driver of the car sustained a wrenching back but was fortunate in not being more seriously injured. The car was badly damaged and had to be hauled to a local garage.

TWO KILLED IN BUS WRECK IN OHIO THIS MORN

Greyhound Bus Crashed Into Bank; Several Were Injured

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 2.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and several were injured when a motor bus ran off a road fifteen miles east of here early this morning.

The dead are Thomas Carney, 45, Alexandria, Indiana, and Esther Masters, 30, of Connersville, Ind. The injured were given treatment at Richmond, Ind. Eaton and West Alexandria, Ohio. These included: Anthony Maylan, 21, Akron, Ohio; Charles Finkle, 33, West Brighton, N. Y.; Erie Maybrook, 56, Springfield, Ohio; Marion Franklin, 35, Topeka, Kansas; Herman Bernier, 19, student, Chicago, and Bernice Hollibaugh, 23, Detroit.

The driver of the machine, W. R. Spratt of Indianapolis, who was cut about the face and body and who miraculously escaped death, was taken to a hospital here in an unconscious condition.

Lights Held To Blame It is believed that the bright lights of a westbound machine caused the bus driver to swerve to the right, off the road and into the ditch.

The impact caused the entire front end of the machine to be buried in the side of the embankment. Most of the passengers were asleep at the time of the crash. Soon after the crash the machine caught fire but the flames quickly were extinguished by the heavy rain which was falling at the time.

The motor bus, operated by the Greyhound Lines, Inc., was bound from St. Louis to Pittsburgh. The accident occurred on the National road four miles east of Eaton, Ohio.

Several other persons on the bus escaped injury and left by interurban for Dayton, Ohio. Spratt, the bus driver, was pinned in the wreckage for nearly three hours. When he regained consciousness he made no statement in regard to the cause of the accident.

Woman May Turn Against Paramour

(Telegraph Special Service.)

Chicago, Jan. 2.—(UP)—Whether to testify against her sweetheart and perhaps save herself or whether to stand by him when he faces a murder charge and risk having her baby born in prison was the dilemma confronting Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien today.

She and Samuel Howard Dorr, jointly charged with murdering her husband last Nov. 20, were scheduled to go to trial today. The state has promised to ask only a light sentence for her in return for her testimony against Dorr. The charge against her might even be dropped.

At first Mrs. O'Brien tried to shoulder all the blame and her sweetheart, with whom she had carried on an affair while her husband worked at night to augment his income as a clerk, made no comment. Later she claimed Dorr planned the murder so he could share in O'Brien's inheritance.

CASE CO. BONUS TO WORKERS IN FORM OF SAVING

Deposits Placed For Men In Either Of Local Banks

On December 24th, 1929, the Dixon Works of the J. I. Case Company announced their third annual Christmas bonus, which this year took the form of a deposit in the savings department of either of the local banks. A few years ago the J. I. Case Company started a system of savings in the Dixon works whereby any employee could authorize a deduction of any amount from each pay, the amount deducted to be deposited in a regular savings account in one of the banks. Many of the men took advantage of this easy method of saving.

When the 1929 Christmas bonus was announced many more names were added to the Case Saving Club, until now over one-third of the employees of the Dixon Works are members of the club. Considering the many employees who have savings accounts, but are not members of a Case Savings Club, it is safe to say that over one-half of the employees of the Dixon Works of the J. I. Case Company have savings accounts in which they make regular deposits each pay day.

Chicago Homicides Decreased In 1929

(Telegraph Special Service.)

Chicago, Jan. 2.—(UP)—Like stock market statistics, Chicago's 1929 computation of homicides showed a slump.

Homicides during the year, the Coroner's office reported today, fell to 412 against 476 for 1928 and 527 for 1927. Suicides decreased 100 to 552 against the previous year's statistics.

Even bombings, for which Chicago has gained a reputation, decreased to 88 against with 106 for 1928. Eleven policemen were killed, two less than the number during 1928.

Only in accidental deaths on railroads did the statistics surpass 1928. Railroads claimed 160 victims, ten more than the previous year.

Lindbergh Doesn't Want Any Statues

(Telegraph Special Service.)

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 2.—(UP)—A statue of himself in Forest Park here would displease Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, he informed Mayor Victor J. Miller today, before leaving for Kansas City.

"I prefer to be known in St. Louis as the boy who flew the mail," Lindbergh told the mayor, who has been active in sponsoring the statue movement.

As a result of the flier's attitude, plans may be dropped. Contributions so far have been confined largely to small boy admirers, who sent in dimes and quarters to the mayor.

CAUSE OF DENSE FOG

A heavy cloud hung over several blocks in the downtown section this morning about 8:30 and pedestrians experienced some difficulty in breathing the heavy air. At the weaving plant of the Reynolds Wire Company, a car loaded with muriatic acid was being unloaded and placed in storage vats. Air was forced into the tank to force the acid through a pipe line to the tanks. One of the pipes broke and the compressed air mixed with the acid filled the ozone for a time, causing a dense fog.

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO HELP IN GUARD PROBE

Rhode Island Attorney General In Charge of Investigation

Providence, R. I., Jan. 2.—(UP)—A direct appeal to President Hoover to obtain the co-operation of the Federal government in investigating the Black Duck rum killings will be made if necessary. Atty. Gen. Oscar L. Heltzen of Rhode Island, announced today.

Returning today from Washington, the chief law officer of the state took over from his assistant, Benjamin M. McLyman, the direction of the state inquiry into the killing by Coast Guards of three alleged rum smugglers at the mouth of Narragansett Bay early Sunday.

Heltzen said he would make a new request for Federal co-operation but that if it were not forthcoming he could appeal to Mr. Hoover through Senators Jesse H. Metcalf and Felix Herbert of Rhode Island.

The Attorney General announced he would take personal charge of the Coroner's inquest in Newport today. He expressed the hope that the inquest could be made open to the public and declared if he were assured of Federal co-operation he would be admitted if he were assured of Federal co-operation.

May Be In Private

If the Coast Guard and other governmental agencies involved persisted in their refusal to co-operate, however, a star chamber session would be held, he declared. This would be necessary, he said, to prevent Federal authorities from obtaining whatever evidence the state might have collected.

In fairness to the Coast Guardsmen involved and the Coast Guard service as a whole, the Attorney General said, the Federal government should co-operate with state authorities in clearing up whatever mystery surrounded the killings. If the killings were legal, he added, there was nothing to conceal.

Heltzen said he would ask Coast Guard officials at New London to turn over the Black Duck, the notorious rum-runner that was riddled by machine-gun fire, and to grant permission to his investigators to board and inspect the craft.

Heltzen said he also wanted the crew of the CG-290 to appear and testify at the Coroner's inquest.

TWO ARRESTS MADE

The new year 1930 was received in Dixon with a minimum amount of outward celebration and jollification. There were but two arrests over the holiday, the police taking two celebrants into court where fines of $10 and costs each were assessed.

There were many private parties which lasted until after the new year had arrived. Members of the Elks and their guests enjoyed a fine party at the club house welcoming the new year. Other parties went to Sterling and Rockford where they attended celebrations arranged for the occasion.

HITCH-HIKER HURT

A young man about 20 years of age, who was "hitch-hiking" to a point in Ohio, was rendered unconscious, sustained a deep cut on the hip and had his right foot injured last night about 10 o'clock in an automobile crash near Drew's Corners on the Lincoln Highway west of Dixon. He was given medical attention here and continued on his way east this morning.

The hiker was a passenger in a car driven by H. C. Whitcomb of Sterling which was struck by another machine driven by a Mr. Samuels, representative of the Chicago Tribune.

Both drivers escaped serious injury but the cars were considerably damaged and were towed to local garages to undergo repairs.

LARCENY CHARGED.

Oscar Steder, aged 16, was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice J. O. Shaulis in which he was charged with larceny. The case has been continued until January 10. Steder is said to have confessed to Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber to thefts in the Methodist church in which he obtained about ten dollars which was taken from purses of members of the choir.

Steder is said to have denied any knowledge of one malicious act which was committed in the church recently, when a great deal of property was destroyed. About a year ago, Steder was declared delinquent and sent to the St. Charles state school for boys. Early in the summer he was paroled and a few weeks ago returned to Dixon.

Many who inspected the new high school building during the open house hours, took advantage of the basketball games.

The Bales & Wilhelm five started in slowly in the opener with the Brown Shoe Co. team but soon swung into form and won by a score of 22 to 9. Kennedy caged five floor baskets for the winners and Carlson sunk two long shots for the Browns. The teams lined up as follows:

Bales & Wilhelm—Roundy, Padgett, Jones, forwards; Kennedy, center; Whitcomb, Vaughan, guards.
Brown Shoe Co.—Hurlless, Bierch, forwards; Welch, center; Kuhn, Carlson, guards.

Merchants Are Losers
The American Cab & Body Co. team defeated the Merchants in the fastest game of the afternoon, the final score being 16 to 10. The Reynolds Wire company captans were completely upset, by the work of a much lighter team representing the I. N. U. Co., who played a slow but cautious game and won by a score of 14 to 11. The wiremakers were the favorites of the afternoon to win and hold the lead in the league but the accuracy of the Utilities basket shooters completely upset the dope. Krug was responsible for all of the baskets made by the winners. The line-up:

Reynolds Wire Co.—Joyce, Tyson, forwards; Lahey, center; Miller, Kinn, Pillarman, guards.

The nation's business will be conducted in this office for the next few months while the executive wing of the White House, swept by fire on Christmas Eve, is being repaired. This office, in the State, War and Navy Building, has been the office of General John J. Pershing. While it is being prepared for President Hoover's use, he will occupy President Lincoln's study in the White House.

There are cats and cats, some of them more so than others; but here, beyond a doubt, is the only cat in existence that looks like Charlie Chaplin. At any rate, it has Charlie's mustache, although its feet and walk are more orthodox. It's shown here with its owner, Miss Leona Danielson, who exhibited it at the Oakland, Calif., cat show.

THE CORAL REEF

THE sun beneath the sea, mysterious dawn,
Illumes the dusk the coral forests keep,
Where mingled thrive in Ocean valleys deep
The quickened flora and the growing spawn.
Seaweed, anemone and moss have drawn,
With hues they gathered in their saline sleep,
A purple robe of rich design to sweep
The madrepore's vermiculated lawn.
With scales more lustrous than the enamel's glow,
Across the coral ranches in the sun
A stately fish indolently bold;
Then swift his fin strikes flaming from below
And makes across the unrippled surface run
Tremors of pearl, of emerald and gold.

—Jose-Maria de Heredia, in "The Trophies, with Other Sonnets."
Translated by John Myers O'Hara and John Hervey.

Princess Marie to Become Bride Humbert

Brussels, Jan. 2.—(AP)—Princess Marie Jose will leave this Capital tomorrow for Rome, where on January 8, next Wednesday, she will become the bride of Humbert, Prince of Piedmont and heir to the Italian throne.

She will be accompanied on the special train which will carry her across France and Italy by her father, King Albert, and her mother, Queen Elizabeth, high government dignitaries, and those who will serve as her attendants at the wedding.

Extraordinary precautions will be taken over the entire route to be traveled by the train to prevent any untoward incident. An attempt was made recently to assassinate the bridegroom when he visited Brussels, and since several conspiracies against lives of the Belgian royalties and Italian dignitaries have been uncovered.

The Princess is the youngest of three children of the Belgian royal pair, and is but 23 years old.

Installation for Dorothy Chapter, O. E. S., Monday Evening

The installation of the new officers of Dorothy Chapter No. 371, O. E. S. Monday evening, December 30, at the Dixon Masonic Temple, was very beautiful and impressive. The Chapter room was filled with members and friends who gathered at 8 P. M. to witness the ceremony.

The hall presented a lovely appearance. It was decorated with flowers, ferns, and softly shaded lights. The altar was covered with asparagus ferns and flowers, and baskets of flowers, each representing the color of the Star points, were placed on pedestals around the altar.

The retiring Worthy Matron and Patron, Miss Edna J. Decker and Mr. James R. Palmer, were escorted to the East by twelve young ladies attired in colorful evening gowns. Miss Decker welcomed the members and their friends, after which she appointed Mr. Carl Buchner, Mr. Lee Read, and Mr. Glen Coe to escort into the Chapter Room the installing officers who were: Miss Alma Moeller, Past Matron, Installing Officer; Mrs. Pearl Rickard, Past Matron, Installing Marshall; Mrs. Florence Franks, Installing Chaplain. Mr. Allan Read was Installing Organist. Mr. Leon Hart presented the colors in the East while the audience sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

Mrs. Ethel Kreim was installed Worthy Matron, and as she knelt at the altar to take the obligation, Mrs. Katherine Ballou sang most beautifully "Lord at This Quiet Hour." After the obligation, as Mrs. Kreim approached the East, the twelve young escorts formed an arch of roses and her daughter, Leon, preceded her scattering rose petals in her path.

Mr. Frank Kreim was installed Worthy Patron, and as he advanced to the East, the Knights Templar in full uniform formed an arch of steel. Other officers installed were: Associate Matron—Mrs. Nell Gearhart.

Secretary—Mrs. Gertrude Petty.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. Howard Beam.
Conductress—Mrs. Frances Schrock.
Associate Conductress—Miss Lucile Stauffer.

Chaplin—Mrs. Harriet Beam.
Marshall—Miss Edna Decker.
Organist—Mrs. Lila Hart.
Odah—Miss Ingaletta Robertson.
Ruth—Miss Josephine Trotter.
Esther—Mrs. Maryann Gonnemann.
Martha—Miss Helen Edwards.
Electa—Miss Olive Read.
Warder—Mrs. Leila Busch.
Sentinel—Mr. James Knox.
Miss Moeller presented Miss Decker, the retiring Matron, with the Past Matron's jewel and complimented her most highly on the splendid year Dorothy Chapter had enjoyed under her administration, following which Mrs. Ballou greeted her with a beautiful song tribute, "Once In A While." The jewel to the retiring Patron, Mr. Palmer, was presented by Mr. Glen F. Coe with much deserved praise for his three years service.

After an inspiring message by Mrs. Kreim in which she expressed her deep appreciation and joy at being elected Worthy Matron of Dorothy Chapter, Mrs. Nell Gearhart presented the officers gifts to Miss Decker and Mr. Palmer, and Miss Decker was also the recipient of a gift from her Worthy Patron, Mr. Palmer.

Following installation, refreshments were served, for which the dining room was most attractively decorated. The tables radiated in Star formation from a huge Christmas tree, beautifully trimmed, and red tapers, baskets of flowers and Poinsetta nut cups graced the tables. The favors were tiny Christmas trees. Each officer found at her place a lovely handkerchief, a gift from the Worthy Matron.

Mention should be made of the efficient manner in which the installing officers did their work and thanks given to all who made possible the pretty installation services.

K. W. ANDERSON, MANAGER

Hans and Fritz and Louie play bluey, bluey, bluey in a German Band and this band is on tour with the University of Illinois Glee Club which will appear here tonight at the M. E. church. The last concert that the "Little German Band" played was almost ruined because the bass player had forgotten to remove the red flannels from the bell of his horn. Th boys who play in this band are a riot of fun, and in their medley of German Tunes they never fail to play "When Irish Eyes are Shining, Smiling." Even the Director of the band talks in broken English with an accent.

Other novelties on the program will include banjo solos played by V. G. Cornelius. The Glee Club will also sing a medley of Big Ten Songs especially arranged for this tour by the director of the Club, Raymond F. Dvorak.

K. W. Anderson, manager of the club, is responsible for arranging the Annual Tour. Mr. Anderson is a senior in the University and hails from Rockford, Illinois. Anderson not only plans the trips for the Club, but he also manages all the home concerts of the Club.

Great and Small Greet the Hoovers On New Year's Day

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The great and lowly extended personal New Year greetings to President and Mrs. Hoover yesterday and when the day was over, a tabulation showed that the Chief Executive and First Lady had shaken hands with 6,348 people.

From eleven o'clock until nearly three, with the exception of a short period for lunch, and brief intervals of rest while the long line was halted, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were busy receiving the best wishes of their callers.

First came the Diplomatic Corps and the Cabinet, then the members of the Supreme Court, followed by officials of the judiciary branch of the government, and ranking officers of the Army and Navy. Meanwhile a line of more humble citizens, two blocks long was forming for the reception to the public in the afternoon. This began at one o'clock and continued for nearly two hours. Occasionally the line was stopped and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover sat down for a moment's rest. For the first time in many years, Chief Justice Taft was not present. The death of his brother Charles, in Cincinnati prevented and last night Mr. and Mrs. Taft left the Capital for the Ohio City.

Only once since 1904 has the number attending the New Year's Day reception exceeded that of yesterday. That was in 1921.

The Marine Band, divided into regals, played continuously throughout the reception and at its conclusion, Mrs. Hoover thanked the musicians personally and wished them a happy New Year.

"Femmes De Menage" Of Paris In Revolt

Paris, Jan. 2 (AP)—Parisian "Femmes de menage"—or, in English, chambermaids—are in revolt. Repairing yesterday by the hundreds from apartments great and small to the left bank of the Seine they drew up a bill of rights for presentation to the households they serve.

It reads: "We, the union of the femme de menage of Paris, have the honor to announce to you our ultimate and unalterable decisions taken in general assembly.

"From now on we must have a fixed wage, not depending on the whim and humor of our employers. The tip, being a varying amount depending on change, should be fixed. "From January 1, we refused to polish as well as to climb up ladders for the purpose of shining windowpanes and keeping them in condition. "We further ask a respite for fifteen minutes each morning, no deduction to be made from wages in consequence.

"We ask for double pay Sundays and holidays and not to have pay arbitrarily deducted for uniforms. "After big dinners and receptions we ask for a supplement for polishing the glasses and shining the silver."

The regular wage of these maids of all work in Paris is twelve to sixteen dollars a month. In the provincial towns, it is ten dollars a month; in the country, less.

The Freshman Frolic, January 18, gives promise of being a noisy affair. K. S. Steinmetz, Chicago, is chairman of the Frolic.

Progressive Dinner Party Was Enjoyed

A gay group of eight young people held a progressive dinner party and a watch night party on New Year's eve, starting at the home of Miss Mariam Deveney, where they enjoyed the first course in the dinner, the dainty place cards and nut cups and favors being appropriate to the season, and the day being further beautified with flowers and candles. At each home, flowers and red tapers carried on the happy idea. The second course was served at the home of Miss Mildred Jacobson with Miss Helen Richardson assisting Miss Jacobson in entertaining; and the third course was served at the home of Mrs. Earle James where cards were then enjoyed and the old year watched out and the new year cheered in. The young folks participating in the frolic were Miss Jacobson and Claire Schrock, Miss Deveney, and Frank Kennedy; Miss Richardson and Ed Cleary and Mr. and Mrs. Earle James.

Has Social Rift Subsidized Now?

Washington, Jan. 2.—(AP)—The social rift that has Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, the sister of the Vice President, on one side of it and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, the wife of the Speaker on the other, was bridged yesterday at the New Year's Day White House reception.

Mrs. Gann and her brother and Mr. and Mrs. Longworth extended their greetings to the President and just a little later the two ladies were discovered in an animated and friendly conversation.

Washington is wondering whether a truce has been declared in the social feud, which arose from the question of whether the sister and official hostess of the Vice President or the wife of the Speaker of the House be given precedence at state functions.

Repeated Pageant New Years Night

New Year's night at 7:30 the Christmas pageant entitled "Holy Night," which was presented for the first time at Immanuel Lutheran church Christmas eve, was given again by request. Again the church was filled to capacity and as the sweet Christmas music came from the beautiful pipe organ and the curtain rose upon the wonderful scenes in the pageant a silence of devotion and adoration that swept over the large audience. With excellent costuming and wonderful lighting effect the visitor was transferred into the little town of Bethlehem as he beheld Mary and the Christ child in the manger and Joseph standing guard.

Next the Shepherds in their simple garment appeared on the scene when suddenly from behind the scene a host of angles appeared, led by Gabriel, the announcing angel. The song of the angel host was thrilling. Led by the star, the Wise Men also came, gorgeously dressed and with royal gifts in their hands. The grand finale, showing the shepherds, the Wise Men, the Angels, Joseph and Mary in adoration, with the audience singing, "Come Hither Ye Faithful," was a fitting close to this beautiful pageant. From all sides Mrs. August Suechting, who arranged and directed this pageant was complimented upon her success. All of the talent came from the Sunday school of Immanuel Lutheran church.

Mrs. Suechting is appreciative of the kindness of her many friends who have gone to the trouble of helping her make the costumes and in loaning her the equipment necessary for this pageant.

Honored Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meyers

On New Year's Eve a party of friends gathered at the home of the Misses Margaret and Ella Eberly for a miscellaneous shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Meyers whose marriage was a recent event. The home was beautifully decorated in pink and white. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers received many beautiful and useful gifts from their friends who were in attendance at the event.

The evening was spent in playing buncos and seeing the old year out and the new year in, while the hostess served tasty refreshments. Miss Hazel Rhodes and Melvin Brierton were awarded high honors and Mrs. Harry Eberly and Clarence Meyers the consolation favors.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—PINE CONES—One of the nicest Sunday night supper attractions in the world is a crackling pine cone fire in the fireplace. The children can gather cones on their hikes. The Christmas tree should be saved for this use, too.

SOILED CUFFS—Boys' shirts should have their cuffs and collars soaked well and scrubbed with a brush before they are put into the washing machine.

MENDING HOLES—To mend a hole in a silk or worsted garment, unravel a thread or two from the seam.

LEFT-OVER POTATO—Mix one cup of left-over potato with two tablespoons of tapioca, one cup cooled, scalded milk, two teaspoons grated cheese, one cup crumbs and one slightly beaten egg, mold into croquettes and fry in deep fat.

CRACKED WALLS—Before you paint your rooms, mend the cracks. There are several kinds of mending plaster on the market which, when mixed with water, will do the job easily and beautifully.

STIFF OMELET—A little tapioca, used in making an omelet, makes it much less likely to fall when taken out of the oven.

CHEESE TARTS—With left-over bits of pie crust, cut thin, small, round little tarts and fill with cream cheese and jelly when they are baked.

TIME SAVER—If you fold up the towels, sheets and other household linen when you take it from the line, it will save many minutes and effort in ironing.

PICTURE HANGING—Pairs of pictures are extremely good now, hung over each other or alongside each other, over a table, book case, or any other big piece of furniture.

FRUIT JUICE—Save all juices from canned fruit. It is excellent in gelatin or to make fruit sauce for cottage pudding for the children's supper.

TASTY DUCK—The next time you roast a duck, try stuffing it with sauerkraut. It is one of the tastiest and most successful of dishes.

PIN FEATHERS—To get pin feathers off a duck, paint the whole bird with melted paraffin. When it hardens, the pin feathers come off with the wax.

COSTLY TOUCH—When you buy a cheap silk frock, if you take out the machine stitching around the neck, cuffs and hem, and dot it over carefully in fine hand stitches, you will find it will look like a much better frock.

SAGGING FLOORS—If your floors have sagged, you can cover the cracks, either by moving the molding down a little on the baseboards or else buying wider moldings to cover them up. Either improves the appearance.

POLICE COURT PARADE.

It turns out now that the frowzy vagrant who was hauled up in the Chicago police court the other day for being drunk and disorderly was not, after all, the famous Dan Murphy, one-time star baseball player for the Philadelphia Athletics.

The prisoner said he was, you may remember, and court room officials and hangers-on were so affected by this visible decline from greatness and affluence that they collected a sum of money and gave it to him.

But the real Dan Murphy, well-to-do and respectable, living in the east, heard about it and spoiled the story by pointing out that the prisoner was only a faker, who had worked the same gag before.

So the story fell flat—and the luckless wanderer who wheeled a little money out of the Chicago court room will probably be severely dealt with if he ever turns up there again.

It's funny, though, that we should lose all of our interest in him simply because his little deceit has been exposed.

When we thought that he was Dan Murphy we felt sorry for him. We told ourselves that he had a bad fall. We were glad to see him getting a break at last, and we hoped that he would be able to pull himself together and make a little something of himself.

But as soon as we found out that he wasn't Dan Murphy we very quickly forgot about him.

Queer, that our minds should work that way. There are thousands of down-and-outers in this country. They trail through the police courts of our land every day, a sad-eyed and hopeless procession, wandering from gutter to gutter and from jail to jail in sodden misery and squalor.

But we never give them a thought. We don't bother to take up collections for them. They may, for all of us, stew in their own juices.

After all, we might remember this: no man on earth was ever born a drunken bum. Every bit of wreckage that drifts into police court has had a fall of some kind. For every child in its crib has infinite possibilities; and if, at 40 or 50, a man is making the rounds of the police courts, that is a sign that he has somehow missed his birthright.

The police court parade is a daily spectacle, and we don't pay much attention to it. We should. It would help us to realize what a long way we have yet to go before our world will be what it ought to be.

DID HE SPILL THE BEANS?

The Navy Department, it is reported, is making an inquiry into General Smedley Butler's recent Pittsburgh speech, in which the doughty marine declared that the marines in Haiti had maneuvered elections so as to put hand-picked candidates into office.

This inquiry, somehow doesn't especially appeal to us. Offhand, it looks very much as though someone is about to land on General Butler for spilling the beans. He talked out of turn and gave away a navy secret; hence he must be punished. That, at any rate, is the way it appears on the surface.

General Butler's speech caused a commotion, and an inquiry is in order—but not an inquiry into the speech itself. The inquiry that is needed is an inquiry into the actions of those responsible for the state of affairs that General Butler described.

Woe Nineteen Thirty, with a sigh, shook hands around and said, "Good-bye. I hope you, Tynmites, have fun, wherever you may go. I should imagine that your bike would be a thing that you would like. I wonder if you ride it fast or travel rather slow."

"We'll show you," answered Clowzy. "We are just as peppy as can be. I ride up front so I can do the pedalling. I'm good! The others might do just as well. They haven't tried, though. I can't tell. Perhaps they ought to take their turns. At least I think they should."

"Oh, don't you worry," Coppy cried. "We'll do our share upon this ride. As soon as you get weary all you need to do is shout. Then I will take the foremost seat and give the whole bunch quite a treat. Why, I'm the one to show you what this pedalling's all about."

Then Scouty broke right in and said, "Say! Argument I strongly dread. Let's stop it now and start upon the trip we're going to make. The time is quickly slipping past. Come on, we'll ride away real fast. However, don't go too fast or our bicycle might break."

Then each on hopped into his place. A smile spread on their wee friend's face. "You look real cute," he shouted. "Now, good luck upon your trip." And quickly he ran out of sight. Said Carpy, "Say, that lad's all right. Be careful, there, friend Clowzy, so the front wheel doesn't slip."

INFANTRY IN ARMY NOW HAS VARIED DUTIES

The Government Changes Lineup And Arms Of Doughboys

Washington, Jan. 2.—(UP)—Private Terrence Mulvaney was a Lance Corporal once and an infantryman always, as Kipling fans readily will recall. He and his fellow doughboys the world over would be chagrined and saddened were they introduced to the modern infantryman as visualized by the War Department.

An infantryman in these experimental, post-war days is as likely to yank a lanyard or tool a caterpillar truck over ploughed ground as he is to nuzzle his chin against his rifle butt or brandish a bayonet. What the infantryman has come to has been revealed by the War Department. If experiments are successful, the infantryman of the next war, if any, will be a composite machine-gunner, artilleryman, automatic-rifeman and whatnot with here and there an individual possessing the familiar rifle, revolver and bayonet.

After experiments at Fort Benning, Ga., Secretary of War Hurley has authorized organization of the 29th infantry as an experimental battalion for further investigation of new arms and tactics. The purpose is "to give the maximum striking power and capacity for sustained effort without disproportionate loss of mobility or increase of vulnerability." The war strength infantry battalion to be experimented with will consist of Battalion headquarters, Battalion headquarters company, three rifle companies, two caliber 30 machine gun companies.

The Department said changes in existing organization had been made, as follows:

Two instead of one automatic rifles per squad in rifle companies. Addition of one machine gun platoon, two 37 mm., cannon and two 75mm. mortars to the headquarters company.

The effect of these changes is to increase battalion strength by 326 to 1,178 men and to increase fire power by improvement of weapons. Manpower experiments continue on a semi-automatic rifle to supplant the rifle used during the World War.

STATE'S ATTY. IS ENTITLED TO A BIG COMMISSION

On Sale Of Confiscated Auto Used To Run Liquor

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 2.—(UP)—State's attorneys are entitled to a ten per cent from the sale of automobiles seized in connection with violations of the state prohibition act and are further entitled to a per diem rate for attendance in court in connection with the sale, according to an opinion made public by Attorney-General Oscar E. Carlstrom here today.

The ruling was made as a result of an inquiry by State's Attorney Carey Johnson, Princeton, as to disposition of the proceeds from the sale of seized "wet" cars.

Carlstrom held that the law specifically states that the proceeds must be treated like any other forfeiture and paid into the state treasury.

State's attorneys, however, he said, are entitled to a fee of ten per cent for participation in the sale of the seized car. In addition they also are entitled to a per diem rate for each day they appear in court in connection with the car's sale.

Seizure of the "wet" car, which is provided for in the state dry law, is construed by Carlstrom as an added penalty to the law.

In another opinion, requested by State's Attorney Homer Kasserman, Newton, Carlstrom held that while there is no law against mixture of gas and kerosene, it is against the law to sell volatile combustibles in such manner that might jeopardize life or property.

He declared that the mixtures of gas and kerosene might under a proper state of facts constitute a violation.

Kerosene And Gas Mixture Is Illegal

Springfield, Ill., —(AP)—Although there is no express statutory provision against the sale of kerosene and gasoline mixed, such a sale would be a violation of the law if the use of the mixture resulted in damage to life or property in the opinion of Attorney-General Oscar E. Carlstrom.

The Attorney General gave the opinion at the request of State's Attorney Homer Kasserman, of Newton, Illinois. His ruling is based upon the provision that it shall be unlawful for any person to sell petroleum or other like volatile combustibles in such manner or under such circumstances as will jeopardize life or property.

Colleges Plan To Clean Up Athletics

New York, Jan. 2—(AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Association has made a New Year's resolution that the next bulletin on college athletics issued by the Carnegie Foundation must tell of conditions entirely unlike those described in bulletin 23. At their 24th annual meeting yesterday, the delegates admitted the existence of the conditions the Carnegie report described, and decided to remedy them. The new president, Charles W. Kennedy of Princeton, was authorized to appoint a committee to draw up a practical and promising reform program. The committee will report at the next annual meeting. Meanwhile, college and university presidents and secondary school authorities will be urged to start a quiet, earnest effort to clean up their own institutions. The election of Mr. Kennedy as president came after Brigadier-General Palmer E. Pierce, who had held the office since the organization of the N. C. R. C. 24 years ago, retired. BARNARD SEES GREAT SEASON FOR AMERICANS

Expects Closer Race In Junior League Pen-nant Fight

BY ERNEST S. BARNARD

(President American League Chicago, Jan. 2—(AP)—Never having applied for membership in the "I told you so" society, it is rather difficult for me to give utterance to an American League review for the 1929 season. However, as I was but partially correct in my forecast, a year ago, it may be safe to recall my predictions of last New Year's when I declared the Athletics would give the New York Yankees plenty of trouble and possibly win the pennant.

It also may be recalled I forecasted better things for Cleveland and Detroit. Cleveland did finish much higher than it did in '28. While Detroit slumped toward the end of the season and failed to finish as high as I had expected under its new management, it played to far more people than it had for several years. On the other hand, neither St. Louis nor Washington was as successful as I had anticipated. Nevertheless, the American League, as a unit, played to larger attendance than it did in 1928.

Naturally, I cannot but express my satisfaction over the result of the world series in which the Athletics won four out of five games from the Chicago Nationals. Prior to the series, I was quoted as saying the Athletics would win because the American League, for reasons then advanced by me, was stronger than the National. The series results proved I was correct in my diagnosis of the conditions.

It is my sincere belief that the American League race of 1930 will be more hotly contested right down the line than it was in 1929. Cleveland must be considered a contender, Detroit, Washington and St. Louis should give a better account of themselves. Each is stronger than its 1929 record. Chicago can be congratulated upon the acquisition of Donie Bush as manager. Under his direction, the White Sox will show great improvement.

The Boston Red Sox have made a few changes which should make them a better ball club. They already have one of the best pitching staffs in the country. If they develop more—a punch, they are going to prove troublesome.

In the death of Miller Huggins just a few days before the season ended, the American League sustained a great loss as Miller was one of the most efficient managers I ever have known.

GRIDIRON NEWS

BY PAUL B. ZIMMERMAN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 2—(AP)—Burdened with a 47 to 14 trouncing handed them as a New Year's Day greeting by the mighty Trojans of the University of Southern California, Pittsburgh's grid squad today prepared to return to its native heath, victim of the most decisive defeat ever meted out in fourteen years of Tournament of Roses competition. The Golden Pitt Panthers, who dug their cleats into the turf of the historic battle ground yesterday intent on reversing a 7 to 6 beating administered in 1928 by Stanford, left the greensward bowed in their first defeat of the season because they could not solve the puzzling Southern California passing attack.

Beginning with the initial touchdown, which came only a few moments after 70,000 persons had filled the stadium, the men of Troy found scoring possible in four of their seven tallies because of unerring aerial work. A fifth counter was indirectly the result of a long pass and the others were the result of plunging, driving football.

Toby Uansa, All-American selection, opened the conflict with a dazzling 68-yard end run on the first play following the opening kickoff, but feet Russel Saunders, U. S. C. safety man, but him down from behind, 18-yards short of the goal.

Then, when the Panthers had failed to crack the Trojan line for the necessary yardage, the touchdown parade for the Pacific coast representatives started. Saunders' pass to Harry Edelson caught the Pitt secondary defense flat-footed and the Troy halfback scored.

Before the first quarter had ended Saunders repeated, this time placing a long toss within reach of the racing Ernie Plinkert, Edelson's mate at right half, and U. S. C. scored again.

Satisfied with their aerial thrusts, the Trojans reverted to straight football, with Marshall Duffield skirting the Panther end for a touchdown after a Pitt fumble had been recovered on the 18-yard line. Again, before the half ended, point earning sod was marked by Duffield, after his pass to Jess Mortensen had placed the ball within the shadows of their opponent's goal.

Uansa's pass to bill Walinchus and Harold Williams' flip to Paul Collins, two of four tosses in 19 attempts, were responsible for the eastern eleven's points. These came in the third and fourth periods.

Dallas, Texas, Jan. 2—(AP)—"Power" football, as played by an all-star aggregation of midwest players, held a decisive 25 to 12 victory today over the famous aerial system of southwestern teams as presented by the southerners yesterday in the annual Dixie Classic. Fifteen thousand fans watched a group of young giants from the

News Men, Hunting With Cameras, Take Odd Shots in Animal World

Here's the "Who's Zoo," of Animal Land. Lion-hearted cameramen, given this elephantine assignment by the Dixon Telegraph and NEA Service, monkeyed around in many beastly places, getting these doggy pictures often by only a hare's breath. All beavers aren't on coats, and upper left you see one of the seldom-pictured animals nestling in the arms of a comely Iroquois Indian maiden in Northern Quebec. Below is the late Mr. Gorilla—two seconds too late, in fact, when his ferocious charge in the Belgian Congo was stopped short by a bullet from the rifle of Henry C. Raven, shown here. Above a lion made a roaring success of having his picture taken in the London Zoo. Next you see Miss Sally Hureas of New York who has, in addition to two calves, a pair of prize-winning white Angora rabbits. Below, the vigilant photographer found an elephant sitting on his trunk in the London Zoo. Another scene on Mane street, London Zoo, shows a feeble lion cub who is being given "sunshine ray" treatments for his health. The doggy gentleman at the right is "Champion" Lindy V. D. Mayflower, a prize-winning Great Dane, shown with his owner, Mrs. S. May of New York. north, headed by the redoubtable "Pest" Welch of Purdue, shatter a southwestern all-star line to pieces and effectively muss up almost every southern attempt to take to the air.

Near the close of the second period the southern team utilized a pass to tie the score at 6-6, but thereafter were distinctly outplayed. Reboltz of Wisconsin and Young of Detroit scored twice each for the midwest, Young counting on passes from Welch and Holman of Ohio. Geis of Arkansas made the southwest's two tallies on passes from Grubbs of Texas Christian.

San Francisco, Jan. 2—(AP)—Western football enthusiasts were singing the praises of Jack Cannon, Notre Dame guard; Glassgow, Iowa halfback, and a host of other eastern performers today as they recuperated from the effects of seeing an all-star west team trounced 19 to 7 here yesterday by an all-star east team in the annual Shriners' Hospital fund game.

The decisiveness of the triumph left spectators at the contest bewildered. The east scored its first touchdown in the opening quarter on a 25-yard pass, added another in the second, and completed its scoring by means of two field goals by Frosty Peters of Illinois.

The west made its lone score in the third quarter when Sloan of Nebraska crashed through for a touchdown after a march down the field.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 2—(AP)—An all-star football squad recruited from the North Central Conference packed too much team work for Rocky Mountain Conference players yesterday, the visitors taking home a 13-6 victory.

The Rocky Mountain team scored with only a minute left to play, when Thorn, Brigham Young halfback, plunged across from the two-yard line, culminating a long line smashing march.

Illinois' Cagers Meet Butler Five

Chicago, Jan. 2—(AP)—Coach Craig Ruby's inexperienced Illinois basketball team meets the powerful Butler five tonight at Indianapolis in the final pre-conference season game.

Although Ruby has experimented with his lineup, the Illini have taken two out of their three previous contests, and are hopeful of downing the team that defeated Purdue two weeks ago. Captain Doug Mills, whom illness has kept out of the lineup, probably will spend one more night on the bench while his mates battle Butler, but may get into the opening conference affair against Ohio State at Champaign Monday night.

Charlie "Stretch" Murphy of Purdue was back in form last night, but the Boiler-makers were defeated, 32 to 35, by Montana State. Murphy was high point man with six field goals and three free throws, but the Bobcats unleashed a swift drive late in the game to come from behind for a victory.

Ohio State also took a beating, its second in two nights, when Pennsylvania scored a 31 to 25 decision at Philadelphia. The victory gave Penn a two to one edge over Western Conference opponents, having beaten Indiana and lost to Michigan.

Marquette scored an easy 26 to 17 victory over North Dakota State at Milwaukee, last night, and Montana University defeated Valley City State Teachers, 34 to 23, at Valley City, N. D.

UNCLE SAM BIG LOSER IN STOCK MARKET'S CRASH

Government's Loss Comes In Lower Income Tax

Washington—(UP)—Tax returns reported by individuals three months hence will determine whether Uncle Sam was the largest single loser in the recent stock market crash.

While most private speculators already have written their losses off the books, it will be next March before the Treasury can obtain an accurate idea of what the swift stock decline has cost the government.

Income tax payments returned by individuals in March, on income of this year, are expected by Treasury experts to show a sharp decline due to stock exchange losses. How large that reduction is depends on the amount lost in the market debacle.

In the present year income reported by taxpayers increased nearly $2,000,000,000 from sale of capital assets alone and most of this is believed to have been due to profits obtained from stock market operations. It is the unusual gain in this one item alone and the difficulty of determining what revenue it will produce next year that has caused the Treasury to propose only a temporary tax cut.

Offsetting the decreased tax returns owing to losses in Wall Street, the Treasury received enlarged returns from sale of stamps on the large stock transactions during the crash period, but those receipts are now returning to normal. This item, however, will not be sufficient to counteract the large individual losses unless they are much smaller than reported.

Prince Of Wales To Tour In Africa

London, Jan. 2—(AP)—The Prince of Wales was back in London today after spending the holidays with his parents at Sandringham, to make final preparations for beginning of his African trip and to say goodbye to friends. He will leave tomorrow from Southampton aboard the Kenilworth Castle to resume the jaunt interrupted last year with illness of King George. He will go first to Cape Town, and return to England probably in April. He expects to do considerable hunting while away. He sails aboard the Kenilworth Castle as an ordinary salon passenger, all ceremony being ignored in accordance with his own wish. The liner will carry about 500 passengers, most of them tourists. The only exception will be when he sleeps, for a bedstead has been provided for his stateroom in place of the usual bunk.

BIGGEST STATE FAIR IS SCHEME OF STATE DEPT.

Director Buck Is Making Arrangements For 1930 Meeting

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 2.—(UP)—“The greatest state fair in history,” is planned for 1930, according to tentative plans of the State Department of Agriculture.

“In general, plans for the coming fair embrace developments that will enable this great public institution to function along the lines for which it was created—the promotion of agriculture, the industries, science and the arts,” said C. F. Buck, director.

Amusement also will receive a considerable amount of attention from those planning the fair program.

Efforts to combine amusements with educational features will be made, particularly in the horse racing line.

Two classes of horse racing will be held, both harness and running. Tentative plans do not provide for auto speed racing which resulted in a crash at the fair last summer. Running horse races are expected to be substituted for the speed races.

“Horse racing—time honored entertainment feature of agricultural exposition entertainment, can be continued and improved,” said Buck. “Some of the leading harness horse authorities of Illinois are now conferring with us relative to the addition of certain events to the state fair harness racing program. Such features will tend to place the racing card at Springfield on a par with the outstanding tracks on the most pretentious racing circuits of this country.”

“Running racing affords a splendid substitute for motor speed events for the opening and closing days of the fair. Contact with leaders in the turf activities of Illinois, and incidentally this state now ranks well up among the racing centers of the world, can provide for the state fair, a running race meet with a class of speed events of genuine merit—a feature thus far lacking in Central Illinois.”

“There are many ways whereby the fair can and will be changed to bring about improvement. In Chicago, during the International Live-stock Show and the national assembly of state fair and exposition managers, negotiations were opened from which it is hoped that all may see, at Springfield, next August, some of the finest educational exhibits the exposition world enjoys. Cooperation with the educational service of our Federal government and with other national agencies for agricultural and industrial advancement will bring this about.”

“The helpful features of the fair that serve the housewives of our state can also come in for considerable improvement. It is traditional that men plan and conduct the agricultural fairs. Due attention to the home economics branches, with the aid of feminine minds, well trained and thoroughly experienced in the domestic arts and sciences, can do much to develop the features of the exposition that instruct and entertain the portion of the state fair crowds that perhaps few realize predominates—the present and the future housewives of Illinois.”

The fair will be held the week of August 16 to 23.

Yankees Consume Most Soap Supply

Chicago, Jan. 2.—(UP)—Monday wash-days and Saturday night baths have combined to place Americans at the top of the soap consuming nations. This is in spite of the reluctance of little junior to have his ears washed, according to Roscoe C. F. Lund, general director of the Cleanliness Institute, at the annual meeting of the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers here.

Higher cleanliness standards inculcated into our people by physicians, public health authorities and educators have made necessary the output of 3,000,000,000 pounds of soap each year. Compared to our 25 pound per capita average is the 4 pound average in most European countries.

NAMED MINISTER IN NOTE; KILLED WIFE; HIMSELF

Preacher Is Innocent His Wife, Friends Declare Today

Sandoval, Ill., Jan. 2—(AP)—George M. Lyons, 31, shot and killed his wife Patricia, 29, in their home here yesterday; sat down and wrote a note to his brother condemning a preacher he believed was overly attentive to his wife, and then killed himself with a shotgun. He did not name the minister.

Lyons' suicide note said: "Dear brother: You may be surprised why I done this but when a woman tells a lie for a preacher that ain't as good as a dog, then you will understand. People don't think I told the truth about this mess, but I did. I hate to leave the kiddies but she has to suffer, too, and so does that x x x preacher. So I'm saying goodbye to all."

(Signed) G. M. Lyons.

Leave Four Children.

There are four children in the Lyons family.

Although the name of the minister was not disclosed in Lyons' note, Mrs. Mannie Rankin of Sandoval said there was no question but what the note referred to her husband Rev. Raymond Rankin, Baptist minister here. In an interview, however, she denied that her husband had any affection for Mrs. Lyons and said his only interest in the family was purely spiritual.

Mrs. Rankin explained she believed the present trouble was the culmination of an argument which started when she and Rev. Rankin and Mr. and Mrs. Lyons were together on an automobile ride last October with some other friends. She said that a few days after the ride she had learned that James Lyons accused her husband of carrying Mrs. Lyons.

Had "Crazy Spell"

"Mrs. Lyons came to my house a few days later after the automobile ride," Mrs. Rankin continued. "She was crying and I was surprised to see her. Mrs. Lyons told me 'Jim has got a crazy spell again and I don't know what to do. He is accusing your husband of placing his hands upon me and says that I must confess to members of the church.'"

"When I asked Mrs. Lyons if the charges were true she replied that they were not. I then comforted her as best I could and told her that I did not believe her husband's accusations and persuaded her to go home to Jim and try to effect a reconciliation."

Whalen Seeks Clues in Chicago

Grover Whalen, New York's police commissioner, went to Chicago in an effort to trace clues in the alleged "contract murder" of Frankie Yale and Frank Marlow, New York racketeers. ALCOHOL LEAKS MOST DIFFICULT OF DRY PROBLEMS

Law Enforcement Commission Considers Situation

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Jan. 2—(AP)—Industrial alcohol leaks are regarded by President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission and congressional dry leaders as prohibition's most difficult problem.

Out of the whirl of holiday discussion and controversy among the drys this fact has been agreed upon by all factions. The law enforcement commission has set itself to inquiring into the situation but the preliminary report of the commission to Congress will not touch upon it.

Described by Senator Borah of Idaho as a "scandal," the administration of the permit system whereby industrial alcohol is distributed to business is due for a thorough investigation and already rumors of grave disclosures in this inquiry have been heard.

Senator Jones of Washington, administration spokesman for the drys, said in a statement last night after several conferences with members of the law enforcement commission:

Jones' Statement
"All seem to view the industrial alcohol situation as the most difficult one to solve properly as well as one of the most important phases of prohibition enforcement. In working this out the commission should shield no individual and no line of business."

Senator Capper of Kansas, another Republican dry leader, also has called for a thorough investigation of the industrial alcohol system and there is every indication that President Hoover shares in the view that this problem is one demanding an overhaul.

Administration of the industrial alcohol permits comes under the Treasury Department and more particularly under Assistant Secretary Lowman and Prohibition Director Doran. In his reorganization of the prohibition enforcement machinery, Mr. Hoover has proposed to continue this phase of prohibition in the Treasury.

Assurance was given by Senator Jones that the law enforcement commission would complete its study of prohibition before July 1 and that the commission has agreed unanimously not to pass judgment upon the "wisdom or unwisdom" of the Eighteenth amendment itself.

Speaker Longworth's official car, which Representative Garner, the minority leader, continues to call "our" car, will carry license No. 66.

President and Mrs. Hoover's fleet of official automobiles will have their usual tags, ranging from 100 to 101.

When Two Christmas Specials" Crashed

Two crack passenger trains loaded with holiday throngs en route to their homes for Christmas met in a spectacular collision on a crossing at Avondale, La., just outside of New Orleans—and the picture above shows the result. A fireman was killed and an engineer badly injured, but no passengers were hurt. The trains were the Louisiana Limited of the Texas & Pacific railroad, and a Southern Pacific express.

Dawes Poses Without His Pipe

Here's a photo such as you rarely see—Charles G. Dawes, without his pipe, sitting still long enough for an artist to create his likeness, and the celebrated but publicity-shy American sculptor, Jo Davidson, at work. Taking time off from his ambassadorial duties, General Dawes sat for Davidson in a London studio. The completed bust will fill a niche in the capitol building at Washington. Davidson, who spends practically all of his time abroad, recently finished a bust of Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Professor Fired From Communists

New York, Jan. 2—(AP)—From Roger Baldwin the New York Times has obtained information that Dr. Scott Nearing, whose radical views cost him professorships in the University of Pennsylvania and Toledo University, has been expelled from the Communist Party.

He also has resigned from the Board of Directors of the Civil Liberties Union and the Board of Trustees of the Garland Fund.

Baldwin, a member of both boards, said that Dr. Nearing had resigned and added:

"I am not a Communist nor in the confidence of the Communist organization, but a member of the party who should know told me that Dr. Nearing had been expelled by the central committee three weeks ago."

In his letter of resignation sent to the Garland Fund which gives financial support to liberal and radical organizations, Dr. Nearing explained that he planned to devote his time to research, writing and speaking.

More Violence In Street Car Strike

New Orleans, Jan. 2—(AP)—In the latest violence attendant to the six-months old street car strike here two trolleys have been bombed, the second blast occurring in a distant section of the city while authorities were investigating the first in the downtown district.

The bombing last night followed the dynamiting of one car on Tuesday night. Police have announced they will arrest suspects under an old state law providing the death penalty for such violence. Federal marshals enforcing a court order protecting the street car lines have assisted in the investigations of the frequent bombings. Passengers in the two cars escaped injury.

The two planes are to be flown by Pilots Pat Reid and Gifford Swartman. A third plane will be flown by Matt Nieminen, Alaskan aviator, and is scheduled to take off a day after the Canadian planes.

Rescue operations were at a standstill yesterday and the day before because of storms and the resultant poor visibility.

NEW YEAR BOMB FATAL TO BRIDE; EIGHT ARE HURT

Former Suitor Of Mary land Woman Will Be Questioned

Seat Pleasant, Maryland, Jan. 2—(AP)—A deadly bomb in the gay and innocent guise of a belated Christmas gift brought swift death to a young wife and severe injuries to a young of relatives, who had gathered for a family New Year party, and left but scant clues for the guidance of the police searching today for some trace of the perpetrator.

The dead woman was Mrs. Naomi Hall Brady, 18, married last June to Herman Brady, 22, a farmer of Mitchellville. The injured numbered eight and included the girl's mother, Mrs. John Hall, who is expected to recover; her grandmother, six brothers and sisters, three of whom are in a serious condition, and the son of a neighbor, whose hurts were slight.

The tragedy took place shortly after breakfast yesterday. The package was delivered to the Hall home by Leslie Hall, who is in a serious condition and by the neighbor's son, and Mrs. Brady eagerly tore off the Yuletide wrappings while members of the family clustered closely about her. Suddenly it exploded. Mrs. Brady died twenty minutes after being received at a Washington hospital.

The explosion was heard for some distance and neighbors came quickly to the scene. The injured were rushed to hospitals in Washington, a few miles away.

Neither the dead woman's husband nor her father were present at the time. The former was searching for a house in which they might start housekeeping, while the father was at work in a cemetery some distance away.

The Washington Post said today that police intend questioning a rejected suitor of Mrs. Brady. His name was not given, but he was described as a man in middle life, an individual of highly inflammable temper, and known to be familiar with dynamite and its uses.

According to the Post, he proposed to Mrs. Brady two years ago and was refused.

Protest Conviction Of City's Officials

Mullan, Idaho, Jan. 2—(AP)—A petition protesting against the conviction of the Mayor, City Councilmen and Chief of Police of Mullan on a charge of conspiracy to violate the federal prohibition law, and seeking Presidential clemency for them was being circulated here today.

A group of citizens led by J. B. Wilcox, Cashier of the First National Bank of Mullan, circulated the petition, saying they intend to present it to President Hoover.

The city officials were found guilty in federal court at Coeur d'Alene last Sunday of conspiring to violate the federal dry law by licensing various business places in Mullan and using the fees for municipal expenses.

The Prize-Winning Essay

YOU MAY REMEMBER WHEN WE OPENED THIS CONTEST FOR THE BOYS, WE ASKED THEM TO TELL US WHAT THEY WOULD DO, IN A BUSINESS WAY, IF THEY HAD $500 EACH TO START WITH. WE WOULD LIKE TO PRINT THEM ALL, BUT HAVE ROOM FOR ONLY ONE LETTER, FROM OSCAR PLETZENBAUM. THE FOLLOWING IS EXACTLY THE WAY THAT MASTER OSCAR WROTE IT:

ANSWER TO QUESTION: 'WHAT WOULD YOU DO WITH $500, AND WHY?'
I WOULD GIVE $50 TO CHARITY—$25 FOR A BICYCLE—$5 FOR ONE YEAR'S BUNDLE OF HADDE MAGAZINES—$25 FOR ONE ACRE OF GROUND—$14 FOR SEVENTY FENCE POSTS—$31.05 FOR SIXTY RODS OF FENCE WIRE AND $18 FOR LABOR AT $1.50 A DAY TO PUT UP THE FENCE AS AN ENCLOSURE AND DIVISION OF ALL THE GROUND—$35 FOR A HEN HOUSE—$35 FOR A DUCK SHED—$7.50 FOR FIFTY WANDOTTE CHICKENS—$25 FOR FIFTY DUCKS—RE-

SERVING $1945 FOR MINOR EXPENSES TO GET THE BUSINESS INTO A PAYING PROCESS.
I WOULD GIVE $50 TO CHARITY BECAUSE THE BIBLE GIVES A PROMISE CONCERNING GIVING.
BUY A BICYCLE—BECAUSE I COULD ENLARGE MY FIELD FOR HADDE'S MAGAZINE, BY REACHING FIVE NEIGHBORING TOWNS AND VILLAGES, INCLUDING WELL-TO-DO FARMING COMMUNITIES—ONE HUNDRED MAGAZINES WOULD BE A GOOD INVESTMENT AS A START IN THE PAPER BUSINESS.

THE POULTRY BUSINESS—BECAUSE I COULD BUY A PIECE OF GROUND BUT ONE HALF MILE FROM MY HOME AND ALL THINGS MENTIONED THAT I WOULD NEED TO MAKE IT A SUCCESS HAVING HIGH MARKET PRICE AT A CREAMERY THAT SHIPS EVERY FEW DAYS.
ALSO BECAUSE I COULD ENGAGE IN THE POULTRY BUSINESS WITHOUT INTERFERENCE TO MY SCHOOL WORK.

CLAIMS FIRST AIRPLANE

London—As far back as 1842, W. S. Henson designed a heavier-than-air flying machine. It is claimed that Henson applied for a patent on his model, known as the "Aerial Steam Carriage," but that a working size was never completed. Springfield, who constructed the steam-driven model airplane now in the Science Museum, assisted Henson.

GRATEFUL FOR NEW HEALTH KONJOLA GAVE

Chicago Lady Praises New Compound—It Made Her Feel Gloriously Well.

MRS. J. ONAN.

"Truly a marvelous medicine is this new Konjola," says Mrs. J. Onan, 1861 North Leavitt street, Chicago. "For quite some time nervous indigestion caused me suffering and distress. No matter what, nor how little, I ate gas formed causing bloating and misery. Sour stomach also bothered me greatly. Naturally, suffering as I did, I lost my appetite and became run-down and very weak."

"But Konjola has restored my health and happiness. After only a few bottles of this medicine, my stomach again was in good condition. My appetite came back. I had suffered also from catarrh in my throat, and since Konjola has reconditioned my system I find that trouble also is greatly improved. Wonderful is the new health Konjola has given me, and hope others will benefit by my experience."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

PREVENTION MEANS ESCAPE
By W. Raymond McKenzie, M. D.,
Baltimore, Md.

(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

Doctors are often confronted by this query from patients: "How is it that our parents or grandparents did not have all this trouble with their tonsils? No one ever heard of these things years ago."

Yes they did, but in those days neuritis, rheumatism, heart and kidney maladies, ulcers of the stomach, and some forms of blindness or deafness, were considered visitations of Providence, and were more or less taken for granted as inevitable. Now we know that they are preventable.

because we can trace their causes.

Rheumatism is rapidly passing the way of other preventable diseases, due largely to the removal of tonsils and adenoids from young children during the past few years. This decline has been so marked that many prominent medical authors and teachers have written about it and produced hospital records to substantiate their conclusions. In a recent article reporting a series of 20,000 children who had their tonsils and adenoids removed and 28,000 children who were not operated on, the author concludes that the child without tonsils has a decidedly better chance to escape rheumatic infection, than the child who still has tonsils.

Heart complications are very common following rheumatism, and this article shows that in 83% the condition developed before operation as against 17% after operation. Scarlet fever occurred in 7.5% of operated children as against 16% of unoperated children. Children without tonsils have less tendency to develop heart disease after scarlet fever. This article definitely shows that the tonsil is a factor in the causation of rheumatism, scarlet fever and chronic heart disease, and that the child with tonsils removed is assured greater protection against these infections than the child whose tonsils have not been removed.

What is true in children is equally true in adults. It is unnecessary for you to suffer with neuritis, or rheumatism or other general diseases, which we now know are due to focal infection. If the focus can be found and eliminated, you can be relieved and eliminated. Your life not only greatly lengthened but made more comfortable and more productive. One of the most important factors in the relief and cure of these focal infections is the early diagnosis, so that serious and dangerous complications may be avoided. As the disease becomes chronic the chances of a complete cure diminish. Almost all of the acute cases get entirely well; most of the sub-acute ones get well or are greatly relieved; a much smaller per cent of the chronic cases get well or are relieved. You probably have heard the story that tonsil operations on adults are very dangerous. There is not one particle more danger for an adult than for a child. An older person may not feel as good as the child for the first few days after the operation because his recuperative powers are not so good. Yet tonsil operations are major operations and should not be considered lightly or as being a minor procedure. They should be performed by a competent specialist, thoroughly trained in his work.

Now just a few words in closing. If you are suffering from frequent colds, recurrent attacks of sore throats and tonsillitis, body or joint pains, heart, kidney or stomach trouble, eye or ear disease, consult your family doctor and let him advise you.

Make the inspection of your tonsils a regular part of your annual health examination.

SUN ENGINE

Los Angeles—On the outskirts of this city is one of the world's queerest engines. It is run by "sun-power," 1788 mirrors reflecting the heat of the sun on a huge boiler which holds water. The heat of the sun turns the water to steam, creating power for operation of the engine. This system has been in operation since 1902.

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN

THE prosperous publisher, leaning back thoughtfully in his comfortable desk chair, studied the card in his hand. There was such incongruity between this lovely young woman—24—she really wasn't just a girl any longer—and the tawdry boarding house of his imagination.

Strange, the way her appearance had taken his fancy. Twenty-four! Arthur Knight's face sobered. He brushed one hand backward against his grayed temple. Knight had been 48 on his last birthday. The touch of gray in his dark hair increased his well-tailored, athletic good looks. No matinee idol, Arthur Knight generally won feminine attention for his handsome chin and level, friendly brown eyes.

Another glance at the card. Miss Cameron had never been employed before. She had come to Hunter Brothers on the recommendation of her business training school and it was one of the best in the city. Hunter's made rather a specialty of taking on inexperienced workers—providing their recommendations were satisfactory—and training them in the business. Old John Hunter himself had established the policy because he said it was harder to retrain a man after he had learned wrong habits than it was to teach him in the first place. Also, of course, beginners take low salaries.

A vision of two shaded, narrow blue eyes rose before Arthur Knight. He pushed an electric button on his desk and summoned Miss Tupper.

"I am going out for an hour or two. If Cunningham calls from Boston ask Mr. Fisher to talk to him. Oh, by the way, here is that record card."

Then as casually as he came and left the office each day, Arthur Knight took his hat and departed. He did not walk through the outer office where Judith and the four other stenographers were pounding their typewriters.

Certainly there had been nothing in that morning's happenings to arouse in Kathryn Tupper's breast a dark, abiding resentment against Judith Cameron. And just as certainly that is what had happened.

Since Miss Tupper, in addition to her secretarial duties, supervised the five girls in the outer office, this was unfortunate for Judith.

There are so many ways a woman executive can make life miserable for a girl who works under her direction. Judith, who was not quick at transcribing shorthand or swift at typing, had to bear the brunt of this ill-will.

MISS TUPPER would step into the outer office at 30 minutes after 11 and say, "Oh, Miss Cameron, will you copy these pages for me before you go out to lunch? It's a rush job." Or perhaps it would be a message to take to some other office in the building with instructions to "wait for a reply."

Since Judith's lunch hour was from 11:30 until 12:30 and the afternoon's schedule was already filled with work, such tasks meant that her lunch time was cut in half and, often, that when the others filed out of the office at 5 o'clock Judith Cameron was still at her desk.

Tim Mulligan was the only one who sympathized.

Once he came over to Judith's desk after Miss Tupper had departed, leaving fresh tasks, and delivered himself:

"Say, that old skirt's got a crust."

"Do you really suspect?" Stella had been at Hunter's now for three years. A long time, she said, and without hesitation she volunteered "the low-down" on all the other office workers to her companions. Though Judith was never included in these gossip sessions, she heard most of them—what was as the speakers intended.

The three other girls were Adelaide Conway, Stella Williams and Mitzel Kraft. Mitzel's name wasn't really Mitzel. She had adopted it from a favored actress and all of the others thought it "cute." Mitzel, when the others were not about, frequently made overtures toward Judith. She asked her one night to make a fourth on an expedition to Coney Island, and was offended when Judith refused. After that the rumors about Judith Cameron's "high hat" ways multiplied.

"You know there really is something funny about that girl," Carla Morrison confided to her friends one day in the wash room. "Gosh—wouldn't I like to get the dirt and dish it!"

ventured.

"Sure I do! Only nobody knows anything. Miss Tupper doesn't cause I asked her. Say—wait a minute—I've got a bright idea!"

Carla Morrison's dark eyes flashed with excitement.

"I've got a little idea I'm going to spring this afternoon. Maybe we'll learn something; anyhow it'll be fun. When I walk over to Cameron's desk this afternoon all of you listen!"

All of them were listening with both ears when, near the middle of the afternoon, Carla deliberately arose from her desk, walked over toward a window on the side of the room where Judith sat and stared for a moment at the street below. Then she turned about, saw that three pairs of eyes were watching her and moved lazily toward Judith.

Her eyes dropped and she said quietly, "Miss Cameron—"

Judith looked up.

"Yes. What is it?"

Was Carla Morrison's smile mockery or friendliness?

"I saw you last night."

It happened so very quickly! Each of the girls watching saw the change and yet each doubted her own eyesight. They saw Judith Cameron, the poised, the unapproachable, go suddenly white as marble, saw her tremble as though struck a blow, and clutch at her desk.

"You saw me?"

"Why, yes. I'm sure it was you! You were sitting on a bus in front of the library. Guess you must have been reading last night."

"Yes," Judith's voice answered huskily. "Yes. I did read last night."

A quiet came over the room. Quiet which lasted nearly 10 minutes, until Judith, holding a handkerchief to her face as though about to sneeze, arose and left the room.

Buzzing set in at once!

"Did you see that?" gasped Adelaide. "Did you SEE it! Why, she was white as a sheet. Honestly I thought for a minute she was going to faint or something."

"Me too!" chimed in Mitzel. "Gosh—I was scared."

"But, girls—!" Carla held the floor. "Girls, I didn't see her! I only wanted to know what she'd say to me. Don't you see that proves it? Don't you know how guilty consciences act. That girl's got something on her chest, believe me!"

THE rest of that day Judith Cameron was a trifle paler than usual and she was absolutely silent.

Silence was one of the girl's distinctive qualities. It is true that there were certain facts about which she had made up her mind not to speak and which no one—not even Arthur Knight himself—could have dragged from her.

Judith knew the precept of the French philosopher: "Speech was invented for the concealment of thought." She approved of it.

Two persons knew the true story of Judith Cameron's private life. There was, she assured herself, not the slightest likelihood that either would ever reach the office of Hunter Brothers.

For two months now she had been leading this dreary existence. Up at 7 to make toast, dress and catch the 8 o'clock subway. Hot, stuffy, nauseating ride, and then the cool air and tramp to the Hunter building. Ten flights by elevator and into her office chair by 8:30. Work, work, work until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. NEBRASKA HAS WOMAN FARMER WHO KNOWS HOW

Charlotte T. Worley Gave Up Teaching to Save
Mortgaged Farm

Albion, Neb., (UP)—Managing a 3100-acre farm without the help of men, Mrs. Charlotte T. Worley, 37, is, in many respects, the only woman farmer in Nebraska. She is the only woman in the state who has taken over the management of a farm after the death of her husband. Mrs. Worley's husband, John, died in 1914, leaving her a large farm and a mortgage which was due in 1920. She had no money to pay the mortgage, and she was faced with the choice of either selling the farm or finding a way to pay the mortgage. She decided to try to pay the mortgage by herself, and she began by teaching in the public school. She was successful in this, and she was able to pay the mortgage in 1920. She then began to improve the farm, and she has since become a successful farmer. She has a large herd of cattle, and she also raises hogs and chickens. She has a large crop of corn, and she also raises alfalfa. She has a large family, and she has to manage the farm and raise her children. She is a very hard worker, and she has a great deal of experience in farming. She is a very successful farmer, and she has a great deal of respect from her neighbors. She is a very good example of a woman who can do anything she sets her mind to.

Mrs. Worley started into the farming business to save the family estate when it appeared after the World War that her mother was about to lose 1000 acres of land. A sudden rise in prices for agricultural products was driving most of the farmers from the land and banks and mortgage holders were moving in to save what they could from the wreckage. Mrs. Worley's mother had a large farm, and she was very successful. She had a large herd of cattle, and she also raised hogs and chickens. She had a large crop of corn, and she also raised alfalfa. She had a large family, and she had to manage the farm and raise her children. She was a very hard worker, and she had a great deal of experience in farming. She was a very successful farmer, and she had a great deal of respect from her neighbors. She was a very good example of a woman who can do anything she sets her mind to.

Taking her cue from market conditions, Mrs. Worley first made a plan to raise 2000 head of cattle and then to raise 2000 head of hogs. She was successful in this, and she was able to pay the mortgage in 1920. She then began to improve the farm, and she has since become a successful farmer. She has a large herd of cattle, and she also raises hogs and chickens. She has a large crop of corn, and she also raises alfalfa. Her annual income is more than $100,000, and she is often in the neighborhood of $200,000. Mrs. Worley personally supervises the work herself, and in the winter keeps a crew of 20 men, and in the summer a crew which is at least twice as large. Mrs. Worley has three college degrees, receiving her law degree in 1904 in the class in which Gov. Arthur J. Weaver graduated. She received her A. B. degree in 1908, in the same class with Adam McMullen, former governor of Nebraska, and she also received her master of arts degree. In her school days, one of her teachers was Gen. John J. Pershing, then an instructor in mathematics.

FRENCH FLIER HAS GREATEST AERIAL RECORD

Club Recognizes Jacques
Corsin For 12 Years In Air Without Crash

By RALPH HEINZ

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 2.—(UP)—Jacques Corsin, 32, who was an "ace" in the French air service during the final years of the war at the age of 20, has been recognized by the Aero Club as the pilot with the greatest flying record—6,533 hours, or 272 consecutive days and nights in the air.

In 12 years since he obtained his pilot's license, the French youth has flown 1,000,000 kilometers, has carried 10,000 passengers and never had an accident. He is now pilot of one of the commercial planes of the French Air Union.

Born in 1897, Corsin engaged in the French army at the outbreak of war in 1914 as a boy of 17. He went through the fighting at Verdun, Ypres and elsewhere and won his stripes as a sergeant and the Croix de Guerre.

He went into the aviation in 1917 and was cited in army orders for his brilliant air fighting. After demobilization he went to Peru to teach army fliers and while there performed some sensational feats on the plateau of Cino de Pasco at 4,500 meters altitude.

Since 1921 he has been a commercial pilot, flying the Paris-London and Paris-Marseilles routes. His best feat was a flight of one hour 37 minutes between Paris and London.

"There is absolutely no danger in commercial flying, for the construction of planes has advanced to such a point that there are less accidents than in airplane travel than in train travel," Corsin said.

"During the last three months, I made 125 distance flights with passengers and not once did we leave or arrive a minute behind schedule. The progress is due to the superior equipment now used in air travel."

CLEVER CAT

London.—A Oxford cat "doesn't need anyone to open the door to let it in. By climbing on a nearby object, the cat can turn the door handle with both paws. If it can't turn the handle, it jumps up and lifts the door knocker with its forepaws, letting it down with a loud knock. If the door is not opened then, the cat repeats the performance."

SMALLEST PUBLIC PARK

Visalia, Calif.—What is claimed to be the smallest public park in the world is in the center of this city. It consists of a single oak tree, measuring only six feet wide by nine feet tall. It is a public landmark and is respected by all citizens.
